I. ABOUT THE AWARDS PROGRAM

A. The Defense Media Awards competition honors excellence among military and civilian broadcast journalists, graphic designers, writers, photographers, public affairs practitioners, mass communication specialists and videographers. It also fosters an environment of innovation and growth, leading to more effective communication programs. The awards are administered by the Defense Media Activity under the authority of Department of Defense Directive 5105.74, “Defense Media Activity (DMA),” paragraph E3.1.22.

B. Entry requirements and category descriptions for the 2018 competition were created and approved by PA and VI representatives of each Military Service.

C. There are nine categories in the 2018 competition. The highest-level award is the Defense Communicator of the Year Award, which recognizes the individual who used his or her photography, writing, videography and other skills to communicate information and stories relevant to his or her unit or command.

II. POINT OF CONTACT

A. No individual may enter the competition directly. Only one entry per category may be submitted from each of the following competitions:
   1. Air Force: Air Force Media Awards
   3. Coast Guard: Chief Journalist Alex Haley Awards
   5. Navy: Russell Egnor Navy Media Awards
   6. Defense agencies, DoD field activities, combatant commands, joint task forces: Defense Media Merit Awards (DMMA) sponsored by the Defense Media Activity

B. The Military Services are responsible for establishing Service-specific rules and procedures to judge and select their qualified entries for submission to the Defense Media Awards competition. The Services also will ensure military nominees meet quality force standards for their respective service prior to their entrance to the Defense Media Awards competition.

C. The Defense Media Activity is responsible for establishing rules and procedures to judge and select qualified entries for the DMMA competition and submitting winning entries to the Defense Media Awards. U.S. government civilian employees assigned to the Defense Media Activity’s military production divisions are ineligible to submit their individual and unit entries to the Services’ competitions. They enter the DMMA competition.

D. Products entering the competition must be the work of active-duty, Reserve, and National Guard members of the Armed Services, and U.S. Coast Guard members as well as U.S. government civilian employees with the photographer, journalist, photojournalist, videographer, broadcast journalist, graphic artist, mass communication specialist, public affairs specialist or equivalent occupation specialty. Products created by service members who leave the Armed Forces during the year may compete as long as the material submitted was completed in its entirety while the individuals were on active duty or in a Reserve or National Guard status. Personnel assigned to the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Civil Air Patrol are prohibited from competing unless they meet the eligibility criteria stated above.

E. Individuals can enter a product in any award category as long as they carry one of the occupation specialties listed in the previous paragraph. For example, graphics products created by a photographer or journalist may enter the graphic designer of the year category and video products created by a graphic designer or a journalist may compete in the videographer of the year category.

F. Products produced by personnel assigned to “Stars and Stripes” newspapers are not eligible to participate. All non-appropriated fund (NAF) products and NAF personnel are also ineligible.

G. Products created by government contractor employees are not authorized to compete.
V. ENTRY CRITERIA

A. Products entering the competition must have been created, approved for public release, and published between Jan. 1, 2018 and Dec. 31, 2018. In addition, products must have been uploaded to DVIDS between Jan. 1, 2018, and 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time Dec. 31, 2018.

B. All products must support or contribute to organizational communication objectives and meet the highest standards of production, execution and professional excellence. Products must convey, by content and delivery, relevant information that supports the command’s information and/or mission needs and, therefore, must be authorized products approved for public release. Consequently, all products must have a military tie.

C. No single product may be entered more than once.

D. Entries to the Defense Communicator of the Year category may be from a military member or a U.S. government civilian employee as long as the entrant meets the eligibility criteria listed in Section IV. The entrant is also eligible to enter one other portfolio category (either the graphic designer, photographer, videographer or writer of-the-year category) during the same competition year. Products may not be used more than once per paragraph C of this section. Portfolios found to contain the same products will be disqualified from the Defense Communicator of the Year and the other of-the-year category. If duplicate products are discovered, the Services will not be allowed to replace the duplicate product nor will they be allowed to submit a replacement entry.

E. Individuals who are not entering the Defense Communicator of the Year category may be entered into more than one of the following categories: graphic designer, photographer, videographer or writer of the year. Products may not be used more than once per paragraph C of this section. Portfolios found to contain the same products will be disqualified from all categories. If duplicate products are discovered, the Services will not be allowed to replace the duplicate nor will they be allowed to submit a replacement entry.

F. Each portfolio category requires multiple products highlighting the entrant’s work and each product must be uploaded to DVIDS as a separate file.

H. All products must comply with federal law and DoD policy. See Appendix A for a complete list.

VI. ENTRY DISQUALIFICATION AND REJECTION

A. Products entered by personnel who do not meet eligibility requirements listed in Section IV will be disqualified.

B. Products that do not meet the specific requirements listed in Sections XII and V, and Appendix B, or that fail to follow federal law or established DoD policy will be disqualified.

C. Entries not uploaded to DVIDS will be disqualified. DVIDS upload requirements enforce as much objective criteria as possible and will prohibit the submitter from a successful upload if errors are found using automation checks.

D. Challenges will be decided by the Defense Media Activity Director or the Director’s designee after consulting with members of the Defense Media Awards Governance Committee.

VII. HOW TO SUBMIT ENTRIES

A. Entry to the Defense Media Awards will be accomplished through DVIDS. Entry is a two-step process.

1. Upload products to DVIDS at https://www.dvidshub.net/. Once logged in, go to the training section for upload instructions. Only products uploaded to DVIDS between Jan. 1, 2018 and 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time Dec. 31, 2018 are eligible to enter. Requests for exceptions to this rule will be denied.

2. Submit products using the DVIDS Awards interface module. Instructions may be found on the DVIDS website. Entries must be submitted through the DVIDS Awards interface module to enter the competition. Requests for exceptions to this rule will be denied.

B. The Services and Defense Media Activity will submit a list of their nominees by April 29, 2019 and will ensure military nominees meet quality force standards prior to submission. Information required is as follows:

1. Entrant’s first name, middle initial, last name
2. Rank for military members and courtesy title (Mr., Ms., Miss or Mrs.) for U.S. government employees
3. Unit Name (do not abbreviate) and unit mailing address
4. Product titles and the associated DVIDS product ID number for all products in the portfolio

C. Should a name on the submission list be different from the name associated with the product in DVIDS, the name associated with the entrant’s DVIDS profile will take precedence.
VIII. AWARDS

A. Awards will be given in nine categories: Defense Communicator of the Year, Civilian Graphic Designer of the Year, Military Graphic Designer of the Year, Civilian Photographer of the Year, Military Photographer of the Year, Civilian Videographer of the Year, Military Videographer of the Year, Thomas Jefferson Civilian Writer of the Year, and Thomas Jefferson Military Writer of the Year.

B. The winner of each category will receive a trophy and a certificate.

IX. NOTIFICATION OF WINNERS

A. Each Military Service public affairs office, the Department of the Army G6 office, the Army VI career field manager, the National Guard Bureau public affairs office and the Services’ contest coordinators will receive concurrent notification of the winners. The Services will notify their Reserve components since entry by Reserve units and their members is through their respective competition.

B. A list of the winners will be posted to the Defense Media Awards webpage located on the Defense Media Activity website (www.dma.mil/Services/Defense-Media-Awards/) and the Defense Media Awards social media sites the same day the Services are notified.

C. Winning entries will be highlighted on DVIDS two weeks after the winners are announced.

X. AFTER-ACTION REVIEW/MEDIA AWARDS GOVERNANCE COMMITTEE

The Defense Media Activity will host a Defense Media Awards Governance Committee meeting June 6, 2019 with the Services’ appointed voting members and National Guard Bureau advisers to review and update competition guidance for the 2019 award cycle.

XI. JUDGING GUIDANCE

A. Judges will have access to the entries starting May 6 and will complete their scoring prior to the feedback sessions. Judges will provide feedback to the entrants via livestream May 14-16. Scores will not be shared nor will the winners be announced during the livestream sessions.

B. Three judges will be selected for each medium: graphic design, photo, video and writing. Selection criteria for judges will be based on their professional experience in the communication and visual information fields.

C. All entries will be judged on professional excellence, originality, storytelling ability, and creativity. Judges’ decisions are final. The judges’ discretionary comments and feedback will be provided to the Services’ contest coordinators after the competition.

D. Judges will select only one winner in each category. If no entry in a category is considered within contest standards, judges may choose to withhold any or all awards within that category.
XII. AWARD CATEGORIES

A. Defense Communicator of the Year

Open to both military and civilian personnel as long as they meet eligibility criteria listed in Section IV. Entry must be a portfolio profiling the work credited to one individual. Products with more than one name in a story’s byline or the video, graphic or photo credit line will be disqualified.

The portfolio will consist of four products:

- One feature story
- One video story
- One photo (must not be a photo series)
- One product of the candidate’s choice (must not be a photo series)

Refer to Appendix B for product descriptions.

Other requirements:

- Follow entry criteria listed in Section V.
- Candidate’s choice may be a photojournalism product (3-5 photos and a story), but it must be on a topic different from the other products in the portfolio.
- Candidate’s choice may not be a photo series.
- Do not extract and submit component elements of a product as a candidate’s choice if that product in its entirety is being submitted by the entrant to this or another category. For example, do not extract and submit as a logo or other graphic from a multimedia product if the entire multimedia product is being submitted as a candidate’s choice to this or another category. This rule, however, does not prohibit individuals from submitting a graphic element extracted from a team-produced video, or a multimedia product or a video credited to another person, but the extracted element must be the work of the entrant.
B. Civilian Graphic Designer of the Year

Entry must be a portfolio profiling the work of one individual. Products with more than one name in the credit line will be disqualified.

The portfolio will consist of six graphic design products:

- One digital art product
- One identity design product
- One layout & design product
- Three graphic design products of the candidate’s choice

Refer to Appendix B for product descriptions.

Other requirements:

- Follow entry criteria listed in Section V.
- Do not submit two-dimensional work created by free-hand methods using dry- or wet-based methods, such as line art, sketches, water colors and oil paintings, and work created using pencil, chalk and charcoal; pictures of displays; and fine art pieces.
- Do not extract and submit component elements of a multimedia product, video story or video spot as one of the six graphic design products if the multimedia product, video story or video spot in its entirety is being submitted by the entrant to another category. This does not prohibit individuals from extracting a graphic element they created for a team-produced product or a product credited to another individual, but the extracted element must be the work of the entrant.
- Do not extract and submit component elements from a layout & design product as a separate product if the layout & design product in its entirety is being entered by the entrant to this or other category. Conversely, do not enter a layout & design product that contains elements submitted as digital art and identity design products. Each product must be separate and distinct from the other.
- Do not submit layouts from interactive publications or interactive PDF documents.
C. Military Graphic Designer of the Year

Entry must be a portfolio profiling the work of one individual. Products with more than one name in the credit line will be disqualified. The portfolio will consist of six graphic design products:

- One digital art product
- One identity design product
- One layout & design product
- Three graphic design products of the candidate’s choice

Refer to Appendix B for product descriptions.

Other requirements:

- Follow entry criteria listed in Section V.
- Do not submit two-dimensional work created by free-hand methods using dry- or wet-based methods, such as line art, sketches, water colors and oil paintings, and work created using pencil, chalk and charcoal; pictures of displays; and fine art pieces.
- Do not extract and submit component elements of a multimedia product, video story or video spot as one of the six graphic design products if the multimedia product, video story or video spot in its entirety is being submitted by the entrant to another category. This does not prohibit individuals from extracting a graphic element they created for a team-produced product or a product credited to another individual, but the extracted element must be the work of the entrant.
- Do not extract and submit component elements from a layout & design product as a separate product if the layout & design product in its entirety is being entered by the entrant to this or other category. Conversely, do not enter a layout & design product that contains elements submitted as digital art and identity design products. Each product must be separate and distinct from the other.
- Do not submit layouts from interactive publications or interactive PDF documents.

- One photo series consisting of at least 7, but no more than 12 photos. Do not submit a composite layout.

Entry will consist of 13 to 18 images in total. Refer to Appendix B for product descriptions.

Other requirements:

- Follow entry criteria listed in Section V.
- Submit only one photo series.
- Do not submit a photojournalism product as a candidate’s choice.
- Do not submit photos from a photojournalism product if it is part of the Defense Communicator of the Year portfolio.
- Do not extract photos from a multimedia product or other video product and enter them as a portrait, news photo, feature photo, or any candidate’s choice photo if the multimedia product or video is submitted as part of another category.
- Do not submit the same photo more than once. Do not enter the same photo from the photo series as a portrait, news photo, feature photo, or any candidate’s choice photo. This rule does not prevent submission of a different photo from that same operation as a portrait, news photo, feature photo, or any candidate’s choice photo. Note, however, the purpose of the portfolio is to demonstrate one’s ability to take photos in a variety of settings. Therefore, products from more than one operation or event earn higher scores.
